

NOTES from Meeting – Reid and Marisa

- Cite will have a “fun, hand sketched” design
- Crayon-esque sketches, as if drawn by/for children – maintains the cute of the dog
- Cite should not take itself too seriously
- Structure – header with tags, BUT functions as one long page that one uses the tags to jump from section to section
- Image gallery – just condensed in the mobile version, smaller scrolling version
- Fun illustrations for some categories with actual photos for social/cultural implications (example: the Queen of England)
